

WEBSTER COUNTY STOCK
SHOW AND SALE

In Webster County a company incorporated for $5,000 is being formed that will promote an annual stock show and sale. Two hundred $25 shares are being sold. Over $1,000 worth of shares were sold to farmers in three days.

According to the plan the show will be governed by a board of directors to be elected by the stockholders. Land will be purchased and buildings sufficient to accommodate the entries will be built.

Mr. Vaughn, Farmer Tells How He Lost All His Prize Seed Corn

"Some time ago sent away for some pedigree seed corn. Put it in a gunny sack and hung it on a rope suspended from roof. Rats got it all—how beats me, but they did because I got 5 dead whoppers in the morning after trying RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Lefler's Drug Store and Kohn Hardware Co., Hayti, Mo.

President of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation says that the only eight-hour day the farmer knows is the eight-hour forenoon and the eight-hour afternoons.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring him to his normal state. This medicine has so much faith in its curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for anyone that it fails to cure. Send for literature today. Address: J. C. GOOD ADVICE OF A
BIG CITY EDITOR

It is reported that one or both the big parties have decided to do a lot of billboard advertising over the country during the campaign. Which moves Arthur Brisbane, the famous New York editor, to remark in his widely printed column headed "Today":

"Poor advertising. Better use the small country newspapers, such as Harding and Cox owns, and especially the country weekly newspapers. They cost less than billboards, and are worth a thousand times more—the people BELIEVE in them."

Truly. And the Republican and Democratic campaign committee would be wise to remember it. Where billboard advertising gets one mile, the country newspaper gets 1000 miles.

The country people see the billboards and when they don't hate them for the horrible disfigurement of their landscape, they are indifferent to them.

They don't hate their community newspaper. They are not indifferent to it. As a matter of fact they have a feeling that is akin to love for the newspaper that chronicles the news of their neighbors, friends and relatives and they are as attentive to its contents as they are indifferent to the abominable billboard.

All the people of a community know the editor and trust him. If

FIDDLING FREEDOM AWAY

Any consumer with a normal amount of brains knows that this country is hard and fast in the grip of a merciless gang of profiteers.

This is not limited to any certain lines of industry. It is in practically all lines, and the profiteers are so numerous and have become so powerful that but little attempt is being made to punish them and bring the country back to a safe and sane basis of operations.

It is an appalling state of affairs, and yet the consuming public appears utterly helpless because it contents itself with a few spasmodic kicks.

The press of the country warns the people against the red perils of bolshevism, and yet the scandalous manner in which millions of people are being greatly robbed by the profiteers is in itself the greatest of all propagators of a bolshevistic spirit.

Public prosecutors who shrink their duties through fear of the dollar octopus are to be censured, but no more than the victims who submit to it.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned, and his indifference to the fate of his city will live forever in the histories of Christendom.

The American people are in the crushing grasp of the most voracious army of blood suckers that ever cursed a free people.

And we fiddle while whitefreedom burns.

Have you been looking around town to see how much fault you can find. Good enough—now you know the worst. But cover the circuit again and consider the other side. You may be surprised at your own surprise. There are so many good points to this old burg that you can only appreciate them by digging them out yourself. Try the other tack for a change.

Get ready to shell out a little livelier now. That boost in freight rates will come out of the pockets of the consumers. But that is nothing new. The American consumer is a funny goat—he thinks there is something radically wrong when he is not being shaken down for something or other. Shell out and look happy!

We just dierly love those pillars of the community who come in and plank down a subscription. Get in the game—it's great to be considered a pillar and be loved at the same time.

People who spend their lives discussing trifling things generally convince others that they are as trifling as the things they discuss.

Ben able to dig up the names of that couple who are getting ready to tip the preacher? The pot's boiling—but we can't tell.

Platinum is selling at $115 an ounce, apparently making a desperate effort to catch up with the price of print paper.

And still, the orphan has one thing for which to be thankful. He doesn't have to worry over the mistakes of dad.

These are the days when we are forcibly reminded that the most objectionable of all bills is that of the mosquito.

It makes a man feel like a sucker to see the kisses he has coaxed for wasted upon a little black and white pup.

If the truth must be told, there are times when discretion dictates that we let the other fellow tell it.

Our office devil contends that life is full of ups and downs, with everybody trying to go around them.

"Waste is a sin," the good people tell us. But don't get huffy. You are a g. p.

Your best friends, however, are often those for whom you do the least.

Don't believe all you hear—especially when it is about yourself.

Good advice is welcome, brother, as long as it is the kind we want.

Cheerfulness is about the only contagious thing we aren't afraid of.

Repentance comes readily when you see what your sin has cost you.

They hadn't learned to trust him, you may be sure he would have no newspaper today. Trusting him, they trust his paper and believe it. Think of billboard advertising alongside of that. Ye gods!

MOREHOUSE REVIVAL

A great revival is in progress in Morehouse conducted by T. R. Stroup, pastor of the Baptist church, with John Imrie doing the singing. Those who have been in this city for years, say they never saw a meeting like this in Morehouse, people come from a distance to each service. Great crowds are in attendance both day and night. Souls are being saved; the church is rejoicing. Imrie as a singer is a wonder, as a personal worker he is a success. A MEMBER.
